Matagorda Plant

- Produces high-density polyethylene
- Resin used housewares, home construction materials and automotive parts
- Recognized by OSHA for outstanding safety performance and process in the workplace

LyondellBasell's Matagorda Plant is a high-density polyethylene plant (HDPE) producing site. The plastic resins are used by customers to make housewares, home construction materials, automotive parts, food packaging and personal care products. The facility employs nearly 300 workers.

Economic Impact

Our site serves as a significant economic engine because it's one of the largest employers in Matagorda County. For decades, LyondellBasell has offered good paying, stable jobs. Our workers live and shop in the area which means they purchase millions of dollars in local goods and services. The property taxes paid by LyondellBasell help support the local schools and government services.

Community Outreach

Our volunteers often contribute their time and resources to our local community. LyondellBasell workers have worked with the Matagorda Birding Nature Center, American Red Cross, Bay City Public Library and area school districts. The site also helps support area food pantries and STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics) programs. Several workers teach classes for the Bay City Process Technology (PTECH) program. For nearly a decade, the site has organized a holiday party for elementary school students.

Site management meets regularly with a panel of community residents to share safety and environmental performance information and to discuss community expectations and concerns.

Social Responsibility

Because of our dedication to sustainable prosperity, we operate our facilities in a manner that protects people and the environment. Through our culture of Operational Excellence, LyondellBasell companies are committed to continuous improvement in safety and environmental performances. By increasing our recycling efforts, our site has made significant progress in the reduction of waste headed for landfills.

The Matagorda Complex is proud to receive Caring for Texas awards from the Texas Chemical Council in recognition for operational excellence. The site has also received OSHA's prestigious STAR status which is the agency's Voluntary Protection Program citing strong safety systems.
